

Scoville-Meno

Used Vehicle Sales Manager

We are looking to add to our management team a motivated self-starter with a winning attitude. Automotive sales and management experience preferred, but we will also consider a related professional background. This is a premier career opportunity to manage a sales team selling one of the world's most trusted and well known name plates and represent one of the area's most respected dealership groups celebrating our 37th year. A solid employment history and several work and personal references required. Responsibilities include recruiting, training, and motivating sales team members, inventory management, used vehicle appraising and wholesaling, and attaining monthly vehicle sales objectives.
