NEWS OF THE DAY

Submitted by Village of Richfield Springs Historian Harriett Geywits

One of the most important events that took place in the mid-1800s in the village was the start of a newspaper. It had the name of the RICHFIELD SPRINGS MERCURY - A Journal for the Social Circle and the Man of Business: Devoted to Agriculture, Mechanics and General Intelligence. Volume No. 1 was issued for a price of five cents and continuing issues would be published every Friday. The announcement about starting the newspaper appeared in the first issue of July 19, 1867. Henry L. Brown was editor and publisher.

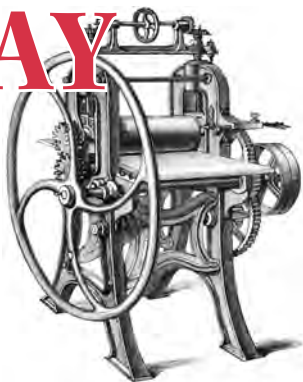

“It now appears to be decided that the rapid growth of Richfield Springs is a sure guarantee of the success and permanency of a weekly newspaper, consequently we make the experiment with the hope that the citizens will do all they can to help and assist the enterprise. There is no cheaper article in the market than the Newspaper - nothing that is more richly worth the money that is demanded for it. A dollar and a half for a continual and varied source of reading through the year, is what must be pronounced by all as cheap indeed. And it is a sum which but few cannot well afford to pay.

There are, in Richfield Springs and vicinity, thousands of readers whose hearths should be gladdened with the presence of a Local Newspaper. A good citizen should be animated with a desire to know the transactions and events of his own region of country. We only ask for a share of the support which is due to a country press and appeal to all in and about Richfield Springs who take an interest in the welfare of the county, to give us their sympathies and above all that kind patronage which can cheer the heart and nerve the arm of the printer.

In introducing the MERCURY to the notice of the public, we desire to state briefly but explicitly, the objects to which it will be devoted and the principles upon which it is intended to be conducted. It will be the aim of the proprietor to make the MERCURY a first-class paper. Our position is easily defined. Our platform is a simple one and its main ‘plant’ is this: We have Resolved, that we will furnish our readers with the news of the week, local and general, fully, and impartially; important events as they occur, will be discussed upon their merits. That the world is susceptible to improvements, we fully believe, but great reforms can be better affected by patient, continued effort than by spasmodic, radical or revolutionary attacks. Whenever any of our readers entertain views either in opposition or in sympathy with our own, or wish to present any subject which has received their consideration, we tender the use of our columns. Such contributions will, of course, be published as communications. For whatever appears in the editorial department we shall ourselves be responsible.

Our main objective will be to make the MERCURY interesting and useful as a local business paper. It will contain full Market Reports of New York and Albany and one of our own village, and the best and fullest Cheese Reports of Little Falls, Herkimer and Ilion that will be published. A review of the Hop Market will be given each week. It will, in truth, advocate the interest of all classes but be the organ of no party, clique or sect but will endeavor to represent national and common interests.

A newspaper, as is well known, depends more for its material support upon its advertising patronage than upon its circulation. We are confident that the latter, in our case, will be sufficiently large to secure the former. We shall reach a large class of readers who see no other County paper and thus be able to enlarge the circle of patrons of those who advertise their wares, their profession, or their wants in the columns of the MERCURY. With this brief salutatory we commence our enterprise and send forth the MERCURY apart long and vexatious delays, urging upon those who may look upon it with favor for support and success.”

The newspaper at that time consisted of four pages with seven columns per page measuring a total size of eighteen by twenty-four inches printed on a hand press. It was first issued in the office which was located on the East side of Lake Street and Main in what was then known as the Johnson Block. The UTICA DAILY OBSERVER, which was considered a ‘city paper’, spoke of this new weekly paper saying, ‘it looks and reads well.’

Cornelius Ackerman bought the plant in 1868 from Mr. Brown. In 1882, Ackerman sold it to W. T. Coggeshall who ran the paper until 1885 when Frank E. Munger bought it. In 1888, Mr. Munger added a summer issue called the RICHFIELD SPRINGS Daily for ‘the purpose of chronically listing the comings, goings, and doings of the summer colony.’

Later, Munger’s son-in-law, C. E. Ackerly, was publisher until 1953 when the MERCURY was sold to Leroy and Marie Palmer. Mr. Ackerly had taken over the publication of the DAILY in 1910, but the publication ceased in 1920, about the time of the decrease in the number of people coming to the resort area.

The Palmers ran the publication and printing shop from their building on Center Street until health considerations brought the closing of their business in July of 1972, after one hundred and five years of continuous service to the area readers.

In the first decade of the paper, there were many signs of growth and improvement for the village. Four new churches were built; a national bank was established; the village water system installed; the steam railroad came to the village; a public park was laid out; a seminary for higher education was established; a new grade school built; a new power press for the paper was installed (it was used for over 85 years); hotels and boarding houses sprang up and a brick yard furnished materials for many homes and business places.

By 1908, there were fifteen weeklies published in Otsego County. Times have changed, of course. In 2003, J. Bernhardt (JGB Enterprises) revived the weekly newspaper again under the name of Richfield Springs MERCURY, but after a time, it proved to be unprofitable and production was stopped in 2009.

Gone was a service to the community that recorded not only the events of the time but also noted attitudes, hopes, dreams and accomplishments of those in the Richfield area. The life of a newspaper was, and is, precarious. Is this one of the prices we pay for progress?

LITERACY AND CAREER EVENT PLANNED

The 2nd Annual Literacy and Career Extravaganza is slated for Sunday, November 16th, from 12:30 PM to 4:00 PM. It is hosted by the Community Literacy Alliance, Inc., a non-profit organization formed in 2023 to promote literacy and encourage reading at an early age. The purpose of this Extravaganza is to motivate children who are attending to explore different professions, through inspiring and interactive career presentations by local professionals. Presentations will be located in several elementary classrooms.

Registration will be held upon entry to the school cafeteria, at which time all children attending will be given a passport and a map of each 20-minute presentation, along with times and information for scheduled events for the afternoon. The passport should be taken to each presentation that a child chooses to attend. To be entered into a prize drawing where you choose your own prize, get your passport stamped when you attend each of four different career interactions!

Also scheduled will be a "Create A Dream" Storytime by Miss Kathryn, school librarian, as well as a Family Day Scholastic Book Fair. There will be a table of free books outside the library for each child to select a book to take home.

This is a family fun event! All children must be accompanied by an adult.

For more information about the Extravaganza or the Community Literacy Alliance, Inc., please contact Becky Marzeski at 315-868-6599. ➡

LOOKING FOR AN AFFORDABLE USED CAR?

SICK OF BUYING rusty junk off of an individual or online and then spending more than you paid for it trying to get it functional or to pass inspection? At Central Auto Sales I take pride in buying quality cars that are still in excellent condition that can supply you with many miles of service in the future. I typically buy my cars from states south of NY to avoid the rust associated with local cars. I have a nice selection of cars in the affordable $4-6K range, most are low miles or low miles for the age. I'm a lifetime resident of Norwich. Buy from someone local. No pressure, no fancy hype, just quality cars at fair prices! Central Auto Sales LLC, 429 Manley Road, Norwich. www.centralautosalesllc.com 607-336-6371.
