ChenTAC Chenango Threat
Advisory Committee

WHO WE ARE

The formation of ChenTAC was established due to the ever-changing risks of targeted violence and mass shootings that society faces today. ChenTAC takes effective proactive and protective measures that are designed to prevent, not predict, potential acts of targeted violence and terrorism. Through identifying and managing potential threats, ChenTAC provides alternatives to investigation and /or prosecution for bystanders who are actively seeking intervention assistance with a known individual at risk of mobilizing to violence.

With the support of the Chenango County Sheriff's Office, ChenTAC is a multidisciplinary team comprised of businesses, schools and colleges, social service agencies, mental health professionals, faith based organizations, community resources and local and state law enforcement. Collectively, we convene as a confidential group to identify, assess and manage potential threats of targeted violence.

IMPORTANT DEFINITION

Targeted Violence is premeditated violence and is usually directed at a specific individual, group, or location. A perpetrator of targeted violence is typically responding to a perceived grievance or acting on behalf of a particular ideology. Targeted Violence is different from impulsive, reactive, or emotional acts of violence. Some examples of targeted violence are school shootings, workplace violence, domestic violence, stalking, and terroristic attacks.

WHEN TO CONTACT ChenTAC

If you become aware of someone exhibiting concerning behaviors, or threatening a person, group or entity, ChenTAC is available to help. Contact our report line at (607) 334-2000 or go to www.chenangocountyny.gov/271/ Sheriffs-Office and find the Submit A Crime tip button. If you have concerns of imminent danger, call 911 immediately.

See Something, Say Something YOUR ROLE IS IMPORTANT

ChenTAC is relying on you, our biggest asset, to help identify potential threats. Without participation from members of the public, we can not identify ways to assist those who need us or protect our community.

Cheese Can Be a Part of a Healthy Diet

It is certainly hard to deny the appeal of cheese. On top of a burger, cheese makes every bite better. Mixed into pasta, it can turn the average dinner into a feast. And what child (or child at heart) doesn't enjoy a satisfying grilled cheese sandwich every now and then? Despite the delights of cheese, the most common varieties provide on average 80 or more calories and roughly 7 grams of fat per ounce, which can make it a luxury for those watching their weight. Cheese also can be high in cholesterol. For example, just 1 cup of whole milk ricotta contains 125 mg of cholesterol. But when individuals turn to all natural kefir (labne) cheese, they don't have to feel guilty about their love of all things cheesy.

Cheese-lovers can look to a creamy, delicious cheese that isn't as well known as the mozzarellas or bries out there, but just as satisfying. What's more, it can be a part of anyone's healthy diet. Although a staple of traditional Mediterranean diets for generations, many Americans are unfamiliar with all natural kefir cheese (labne). Traditionally labne (often spelled "labneh") is made by draining whey from slightly salted low fat yogurt. The result is a thick and creamy spreadable cheese that is a healthier choice for cheese lovers monitoring the fat and sodium in their diets. "Over the past several years there has been a great deal of interest in Mediterranean cuisine due to its well established health benefits," says Rostom Baghdassarian, COO of Karoun Dairies. "The advantages of including antioxidant-rich fruits and vegetables and high fiber pasta and rice in our diets are well known, yet all natural kefir (labne) cheese is still one of the best kept secrets of the Mediterranean approach to healthy eating." When used in recipes, all natural kefir (labne) cheeses add a smooth creamy texture to marinades for poultry or lamb and a tangy creaminess to soups. Many foodies use them as a healthier substitute for cream cheese or sour cream. In addition to the Original Kefir Cheese (Labne), Karoun also makes a Lite Kefir Cheese (Labne) with half of the fat and half of the calories of regular. There are many ways all natural kefir (labne) cheese can be included at mealtime.

- Drizzle the cheese with extra virgin olive oil, sprinkle with crusted hot red pepper and fresh mint and use as a dip for pita chips or crackers.
- Mix it with shredded carrots, diced roasted peppers, and cucumbers for a refreshing fresh vegetable dip.
- Try it as a healthy and tasty spread for morning bagels or toast, drizzled with honey and sprinkled with cinnamon.

6 MAIN BREEDS OF DAIRY COWS

AYRSHIRE

A breed of dairy cattle that originated from the County of Ayr in Scotland. The average mature Ayrshire cow weighs 1,000-1,300 pounds and has red markings that can vary in color from orange to brown.

BROWN SWISS

Originated on the Swiss Alps. Known for producing the second largest quantity of milk annually of any dairy breed, their milk averages 4 percent butterfat and 3.4 percent protein which makes it ideal for cheese production. Brown Swiss are gray-brown in color and are known for their immense size, large ears and docile temperament.

GUERNSEY

A small, cream-and-brown breed of dairy cattle that produces more milk per unit of body weight than any other breed. Guernseys are renowned for the high butterfat content of their milk. Bred on the British Channel Island of Guernsey and descended from cattle stock brought from nearby Normandy.

HOLSTEIN

A black and white dairy cow (though there are some "Red Holsteins") that is the most predominant breed of dairy cattle worldwide. The Holstein originated in the province of Friesland, The Netherlands. They are known for having the highest milk production of all of the breeds of dairy cattle.

JERSEY

A breed of dairy cattle that is renowned for the high butterfat content of its milk. Jersey cows are smaller than other breeds (800 to 1,200 pounds) and are known for their big eyes, honey-brown color and docile natures.

MILKING SHORTHORN

A breed of reddish-brown and white dairy cattle that originated in Britain. They are large in size.

On average, a cow will produce 6-7 gallons of milk each day.

What do cows eat?

Cows eat about 100 pounds of feed each day, which is a combination of hay, grain and silage (fermented corn or grass). They drink a lot of water too – up to 50 gallons a day.

How many stomachs do cows have?

A cow has one stomach with four different chambers, which is why many people say that a cow has four stomachs.

How many breeds of dairy cattle are there?

There are six main breeds of dairy cows: Ayrshire, Brown Swiss, Guernsey, Holstein, Jersey and Milking Shorthorn.

What do you call male and female dairy animals?

Males are called bulls. Females, prior to giving birth, are called calves or heifers. Once they give birth, female dairy animals are called cows. All cows give milk once they have a calf.

Dairy Definitions 1

Milk is approximately 87 percent water and 13 percent solids. As it comes from the cow, the solids portion of milk contains approximately 3.7 percent fat and 9 percent solids-not-fat. Milkfat carries the fat soluble vitamins A, D, E, and K. The solids-not-fat portion consists of protein (primarily casein and lactalbumin), carbohydrates (primarily lactose), and minerals (including calcium and phosphorus). Milk also contains significant amounts of riboflavin and other water soluble vitamins. Federal definitions and standards of identity specify the minimum levels of milkfat and solids-not-fat for the various milks shipped in interstate commerce.

Milk - Contains not less than 3.25 percent milkfat and 8.25 percent solids-not-fat. Addition of vitamins A and D is optional, but if added, vitamin A

LOOKING FOR AN AFFORDABLE USED CAR?

SICK OF BUYING rusty junk off of an individual or online and then spending more than you paid for it trying to get it functional or to pass inspection? At Central Auto Sales I take pride in buying quality cars that are still in excellent condition that can supply you with many miles of service in the future. I typically buy my cars from states south of NY to avoid the rust associated with local cars. I have a nice selection of cars in the affordable $4-6K range, most are low miles or low miles for the age. I'm a lifetime resident of Norwich. Buy from someone local. No pressure, no fancy hype, just quality cars at fair prices! Central Auto Sales LLC, 429 Manley Road, Norwich. www.centralautosalesllc.com 607-336-6371.
