Gilbert A. Swart

On October 23, 2025 we sadly said good-bye to our husband, father, brother and friend Gilbert Arthur (Bo, Bobe) Swart as he peacefully passed into his higher life. Bo was born on September 22, 1949 to Joyce and Glenn Swart of Afton, NY where he grew up. He was predeceased by a sister Terri Lee (1965) and brother David Glenn Swart (1999). After many years of friendship, then separation, he reconnected with and married his loving, devoted wife Christine Hills Campbell who survives him. This is a truly beautiful love story. He is also survived by a sister Christine (Chriss) Swart of Vestal; daughters Mary Ellen King, Kristin (Matt) Corsi and Kerri Swart; grandchildren Gregory and Liliana King, Emilia and Ella Corsi; and step-children Kelly and Kent (Anjoulena) Campbell. Also surviving are his mother-in-law, Betty Hills; brothers-in-law Terry (Ginny) Hills, Mark (Sharon) Hills, Brian (Debbie) Hills, and sister-in-law Kathy LaPlante. His 4-legged constant companions Tess and Stormy also survive him. Bo attended Sullivan County Community College and Oneonta State University and retired from Frito Lay in 2018 where he was the Dock Coordinator. Bo was a man of many thoughts, but few words, unless the topics of politics or sports arose. A big sports fan, he is sure to be cheering on the LA Dodgers this fall. Next up – The Green Bay Packers. The Family would like to thank UHS Wilson Hospital and the doctors, nurses, aides and sitters who cared for Bo with immense care and compassion. And a special thank you to the palliative team who walked with the family through this most difficult time. An informal gathering of friends and family will be held at the Johnson City Senior Center on Sunday, November 9 from 1:00-4:00 pm. On-line condolences may be made at: www.colemananddaniels.com

Deer Hunter's Guide

Catch the Cruise

Evening Sun Outdoor Chenango Columnist Eric Davis

In mid- to late October, whitetail bucks start to think about the first doe that comes into heat. When the day length gets short enough, it triggers a response where they know a doe must be starting to come into estrous. In hopes of being the first buck to find her, bucks will start to roam trying to get the scent of that doe. This search is often referred to as cruising, as the bucks are just covering as much ground as they can while checking out the common doe hangouts. Cruising might only last a few days, but those are some of the best times to catch a mature buck making a mistake. Cruising bucks can be susceptible to calling. As they search high and low for that doe, they may cross into another buck's territory. So, if you see a buck that is cruising, grunting at him may make him think another buck has come into his territory and is stealing his doe. Blind calling can also work during the cruise. Rattling antlers that sound like a couple of bucks trying to decide who is in charge can draw in a crowd to witness it and potentially want to be the next one in the fight. Using a doe-in-heat urine can bring a buck in on a string when used properly. Put the urine on a wick and drag the wick behind you as you walk to your stand or blind. Try to drag it across as many deer trails as you can on your way in. Plan your approach so the wind is not carrying scent from your stand to the scent trail you create. Once you get close to your stand, decide what path you want the deer to take as it comes in. Then walk that route with the drag, ending at a place where you have a clear shooting lane. Hang the wick on a branch and add some more urine to it. Be prepared as does may also follow the scent trail. The first deer I shot with a bow was a doe that follow a scent drag to my setup. If you prefer to keep a more hands-off approach by skipping the use of lures or calls, hunt food sources. Bucks will be trying to pack on some last-minute fat reserves before the rut is fully here. So, think carbohydrates when thinking of the food. Hard mast such as acorns or agriculture leftovers like corn or soybeans will attract deer as the temperatures start to drop. Set up on the downwind side of the feeding areas and you might catch a buck trying to slip in and smell out a hot doe before going out to feed himself.

Whether you call, use scent, both, or none, remember to pay attention to the details of your hunt and what you might see. Deer look back to see other deer that are following them, so be ready as the next deer coming could be the buck your after. Remember to wait to move or draw until the deer's vision is obstructed by something, such as a branch or some leaves.

Deer Hunter's Guide

Doing all the rights things can still go wrong

Evening Sun
Outdoor Chenango
Columnist Eric Davis

It was the Sunday of Columbus Day weekend and I had elected not to bow hunt in the afternoon so I could get some projects done around the house that I had been putting off. Just a couple minutes before six o'clock my phone rang and it was my brother-in-law. I knew the reason he was calling before I answered. "I just shot a buck" were the first words he said. After that he asked if I could come down and help him track it. I gathered my spotlight, headlamp, and license before heading out. I got to his house around 6:30. As I walked up to the house, he emerged from the edge of the yard on his way back. I asked the standard questions of how far was the shot, could you see where you hit him, and what did he do after getting hit? After waiting a little longer at the house, we headed up to the stand where he shot from.

Once there I asked to go to where the deer was standing when he shot. I tied a piece of flagging tape up as reference. We followed the direction the deer took after being hit and found some blood after 10 yards or so. The blood was a rich red, no bubbles to show a lung shot but no stomach contents to indicate a gut shot. We continued to follow the blood trail and after 75 yards or so, we found the arrow on the ground thanks to the lighted nock. We carefully inspected the arrow and kept on tracking as the arrow was covered in blood, meaning it had worked its way through the body cavity of the deer. As expected, the blood trail got better as the arrow was no longer plugging the wound channel. However, after another 50 yards the trail started to get lighter. As I was inspecting the blood on the edge of an ATV trail, my brother-in-law had gone forward some to look for the next blood when the deer got up and bounded off. I marked the trail edge with more flagging and we backed out for the night. Monday morning, we picked up at the last blood. After looking around the downed tree where the deer had taken off from, we found where it had been bedded down. The buck had headed out into a large goldenrod field. Remembering where it sounded like he headed, we looked out in the goldenrod and found some more blood. We followed spotty blood (if you have ever tracked a deer through goldenrod you know how tough it is) for another 50 yards before it began to really peter out. Knowing the general direction he was headed from the previous blood, we slowly worked that way. We had pretty much given up and had left a voicemail with someone who has a tracking dog when we found a tiny spot of blood that gave us a final bearing on the path he took. We had almost walked out of the goldenrod when I noticed a trail going from an apple tree out into the alfalfa field bordering the goldenrod. I went over to the trail, looked in the field, and spotted something on the ground. After another two steps, I realized it was a deer but it was beat up. My first thought was that it was a deer that had been hit by a car and made it that far from the road (about 100 yards) but I noticed that the deer had antlers. After shouting that I had found it, we convened at the carcass. The deer had been discovered and fed on by coyotes. Both hindquarters had been chewed as well as the body cavity. Before moving the carcass, we located the exit hole and I grabbed a stick to check out the shot angle. The stick passed less than an inch behind both lungs and had put a triangular hole in the liver. The shot was lethal, the coyotes just happened to find the deer before we could. It just goes to show that you can do the right things, like backing out after jumping a wounded deer and waiting until the morning just to have something bad happen like coyotes finding the carcass.
